

Hello, I am Chelsea and I am here to notify you that I am in the prestigious position of Head Girl.

I deem to have the ability to contribute greatly to the overall outlook of St Vincent's. I can bring many ideas to the role of Head Girl.

I would like to introduce inter-school/class academic competitions.eg Spelling Bee and Maths competitions. This is where I see St Vincent's competing against other reputable schools.

Additionally, I think that it would be good to acquire a wider variety of trendy books in our school library so that the students will have an exciting range of books at their disposal.

This would encourage pupils to read more and enhance the school's combined learning approach and intelligence.

I personally think that I am a great role model to my fellow students at St Vincent's. I am fully aware that this job requires a great amount of skill, but I am confident that I have what it takes to fulfil the role.

Inspiring the local community can be done by maintaining a good academic reputation and inspiring others to do the same.

The role of Head Girl means a lot to me.
