Dear Parents and Children,

It has been Book Week at St Vincent's this week. It began on Monday with all classes attending a workshop with Sally, a West End Performer. During an assembly, we looked at how we can retell stories through the medium of dance. The whole school performed the story of the Gingerbread Man using actions and dance moves.

The Book Fair arrived yesterday. Today it has opened for business. It will be open every day from 8:40am until 9am and then from 3:30pm until 4pm. The last opportunity to visit the Book Fair will be on Wednesday 13th March in the morning. All children received a book token on Monday. The Book Fair will still be able to accept your World Book Day £1 vouchers or you can take them into a book shop to exchange them for one of the special books.

(See details on the voucher).

Yesterday St Vincent's celebrated World Book Day. Thank you to all the parents who made a huge effort getting their children ready for this special day. As you can see from the photos below there are many varied and popular book characters on display. Thank you also to those of you who were able to support the parade.
